

Windjam Development and Shoffner Construction Announce “Tomorrow’s Hope”
First Masterfully Designed Custom Home To Benefit North Carolina Children’s Hospital

Pittsboro, N.C. – January 30, 2008 – Windjam Development Group and Shoffner Construction are proud to announce “Tomorrow’s Hope,” a luxury estate home being crafted in The Hamptons with proceeds from the sale benefiting North Carolina Children’s Hospital.

The two companies are preparing a year-long campaign to help raise awareness and funding for North Carolina Children’s Hospital. The fundraising effort will culminate with the entry of Tomorrow’s Hope in the 2009 Chatham County Parade of Homes.

Each year, more than 60,000 children from all 100 North Carolina counties make over 200,000 visits to North Carolina Children's Hospital. The hospital relocated to a state-of-the-art facility in 2002, which includes a comprehensive children's outpatient center and 136 inpatient beds in a child-friendly, family-focused environment. It is the first children's hospital in North Carolina to bring together complete inpatient and outpatient care in one location.
